The Principles of Ethics are a model of standards of exemplary professional conduct. These principles of the Code of Ethical Conduct for Prevention Professionals express the professional’s recognition of his/her responsibilities to the public, to service recipients, and to colleagues. They guide members in the performance of their professional responsibilities and express the basic tenets of ethical and professional conduct. The Principles call for commitment to honorable behavior, even at the sacrifice of personal advantage. These Principles should not be regarded as limitations or restrictions, but as goals for which Prevention Professionals should constantly strive. They are guided by core values and competencies that have emerged with the development of the field.

Principles

I. Non-Discrimination
A Prevention Professional shall not discriminate against service recipients or colleagues based on race, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, economic condition, or physical or mental disability, including persons testing positive for AIDS-related virus. A Prevention Professional should broaden his/her understanding and acceptance of cultural and individual differences, and in so doing render services and provide information sensitive to those differences.

II. Competence
A Prevention Professional shall observe the professional’s technical and ethical standards, strive continually to improve personal competence and quality of service delivery, and discharge professional responsibility to the best of his/her ability. Competence is derived from a synthesis of education and experience. It begins with the mastery of a body of knowledge and skill competencies. The maintenance of competence requires a commitment to learning and professional improvement that must continue throughout the professional’s life.

A. Professionals should be diligent in discharging responsibilities. Diligence imposes the responsibility to render services carefully and promptly, to be thorough, and to observe applicable technical and ethical standards.

B. Due care requires a professional to plan and supervise adequately any professional activity for which he or she is responsible.

C. A Prevention Professional should recognize limitations and boundaries of competencies and not use techniques or offer services outside of his/her competencies. Each professional is responsible for assessing the adequacy of his or her own competence for the responsibility to be assumed.

D. When a Prevention Professional is aware of unethical conduct or practice on the part of an agency or prevention professional, he or she has an ethical responsibility to report the conduct or practices to appropriate authorities or to the public.

III. Integrity
To maintain and broaden public confidence, Prevention Professionals should perform all professional responsibilities with the highest sense of integrity. Integrity can accommodate the inadvertent error and the honest difference of opinion. It cannot accommodate deceit or subordination of principle.

A. Personal gain and advantage should not subordinate service and the public trust. All information should be presented fairly and accurately. Each professional should document and assign credit to all contributing sources used in published material or public statements.

B. Prevention Professionals should not misrepresent either directly or by implication professional qualifications or affiliations.

C. A Prevention Professional should not be associated directly or indirectly with any services or products in a way that is misleading or incorrect.

IV. Nature of Services
Above all, Prevention Professionals shall do no harm to service recipients. Practices shall be respectful and non-exploitative. Services should protect the recipient from harm and the Professional and the profession from censure.

A. Where there is evidence of child or other abuse, the Prevention Professional shall report the evidence to the appropriate agency and follow up to ensure that appropriate action has been taken.

B. Where there is evidence of impairment in a colleague or a service recipient, a Prevention Professional should be supportive of assistance or treatment.

C. A Prevention Professional should recognize the effect of impairment on professional performance and should be willing to seek appropriate treatment for himself/herself.

V. Confidentiality
Confidential information acquired during service delivery shall be safeguarded from disclosure, including - but not limited to - verbal disclosure, unsecured maintenance of records, or recording of an activity or presentation without appropriate releases.

VI. Ethical Obligations for Community and Society
According to their consciences, Prevention Professionals should be proactive on public policy, and legislative issues. The public welfare and the individual’s right to services and personal wellness should guide the efforts of Prevention Professionals who must adopt a personal and professional stance that promotes the well-being of all humankind.

I have read, understood and agree to adhere to the above stated principles.
